At MEDViEW

we're moving beyond the idea that health is solely a matter for clinics and medical experts. When citizens are involved in designing health products, services, and policies, the results are more effective, more relevant, and truly integrated with community needs.

This collaborative approach ensures that solutions are centered on people, not just organisations.

Funded by the European Union

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon Europe Research and Innovation Programme under the call HORIZON-WIDERA-2024-ERA-02-and the Grant Agreement No 101217136.

Our Mission

MEDViEW is creating an enabling environment for innovation, collaboration, and co-creation. We bring together a diverse ecosystem of:

- Industry partners
- Citizens (patients, community members)
- Health Practitioners / Doctors
- Researchers / Academia
- Policymakers

to address the complex issue of human health and well-being, ensuring that solutions are holistic and community-driven.

Objective:

MEDViEW aims to deliver a complete practical guide and a set of tools comprising methods, practices, and procedures for the deployment of an open innovation space for effective knowledge valorisation in the field of well-being.

It's designed to empower communities and stakeholders to to sustainably co-create health solutions that endure beyond the life of our project.
